

NDS Challenges ALS

STORY AND DESIGN BY ANNA SCHROER, LANEY ULOWETZ AND RACHEL ERGOVICH

Crystalline cubes hit the floor free falling out of the raised bucket onto the concrete below, jumping on impact chipping and landing in a final stalemate with the ground. Ice water flushes in, clothes stick drenched in the icy shower, tingling the senses, working to simulate the loss of function patients with amyotrophic lateral sclerosis experience. This is the ALS Ice Bucket Challenge, the viral sensation sweeping the globe in attempts to raise awareness and money for this incurable disease. The challenge that millions have participated in, hoping to find a cure for thousands.

(Story Continued on pg. 16)
Photo by: Laney Ulowetz