MOSTLY SIDE 1

"This perfectly reflects me because I always get my work down. When I work I feel like my grades were well earned."

-Robert Fairless, 9

You are a very logical and organized studier. Everything you do has thought behind it and there is an end goal in mind. You have a tendency to be over-prepared and can easily get stressed out. The only thing you procrastinate is choosing which song to listen to while doing homework.

MOSTLY SIDE 2

"I definitely feel like it fits my study habits almost perfectly. I'll definitely get my stuff done, but only after I hang with friends."

-Amanda Denno, 12

You are a little more relaxed when it comes to studying. Friends and fun take your attention and homework takes the back seat. Generally you will get it done, but it is probably the night before or the day of. You enjoy life to its fullest and get what you need to get done eventually.
